OpensoftHR eEmployee Management Features and Benefits of OpensoftHR eEmployee Management

Are you facing employee management issues such as:

STAY IN CHARGE OF YOUR EMPLOYEE MANAGEMENT Remain in control and on top of your operations

X WASTING TIME

chasing an employee to return a company asset

× FEELING CLUELESS

whether if an employee's salary is too high or too little?

× MANUALLY

having to keep track of courses that employees are enrolled in.

× NOT KNOWING

where the company's shared gadget (e.g.company iPad) is, yet again?

OpensoftHR Employment Management provides features and tools that help you stay in the know of what's happening on the ground.

Manage Courses

Digitally keep track of the various courses that your employees have completed and are embarking on and the current status. Usually this involves a fair bit of paperwork and hence managing it all online helps you save time and have everything in check.

Employee Audit Log

The Employee Audit Log allows admins to view and search for edits that the employees have made to their employee profiles. This log provides a permanent record of employees that were added, edited, or deleted by all employees, as well as information on the location, time, date, and person who made these changes.

✓ Assets Management

Keep track of ALL assets that your employees are using so you do not have to chase employees to return them back after they have left your company ✓ Job Grades.

A job grade is a method to decide the impact, seniority, and expectations for a specific role. In the best cases, a job grade will reflect knowledge, skills, and responsibility.

Job grades help determine pay scales for jobs on a national level and can help to ensure equal compensation for equal work based on federal guidelines.

Having an overview of the job grades of all your employees will give you a clearer idea on what's fair, too much, and too little.

✓ Query Reports

The query report section allows the HR admin to see only what they need to see. The HR admin can define what they want to see by selecting elements (eg lateness reports, leave reports) to be displayed in a report chart. The query report section will then display the selected elements in a chart so the HR admin can easily view all important reports at a glance.

Employee Reports

Employee Reports provide both useful quantitative and qualitative information on employees, HR practices, and company trends. All this information is vital for informed decision-making. Regular HR reporting that tracks key workforce metrics is important in helping both HR and management have a clearer idea of the ongoings of the organization.
